A photograph of a dilapidated building at night. The building has a prominent copper spire on its roof. The walls are peeling and the structure appears old and weathered. In the foreground, there are concrete steps leading up to the building. Two jack-o'-lanterns are visible: one is glowing from a window on the right side of the building, and another is in the bottom right corner of the frame. The sky is dark blue with some clouds.

Thank you for supporting our dancers,
we hope you enjoy the show!

HAPPY HALLOWEEN!
